Art & Etc

Visit to the Quilt of Belonging

Valerie Aitken

An audible gasp was heard as we entered the large studio to see the Quilt of Belonging. The luminous colours that frame the 263 blocks invite the audience to see the individual artistry applied within each block. The Quilt of Belonging represents all the nationalities from which Canada draws its diversity

The creator, Esther Bryan gave us a guided tour of the Quilt of Belonging and told us some of the heart warming stories and others that were quite tragic.

I encourage everyone to visit this unique work of art.

Fibres du Monde - Quilt of Belonging is in Montreal from April 27th to Jun 5th.

Location: Maison de la Culture Frontenac, 2550 rue Ontario (behind the Frontenac Metro) Tuesday - Thursday 12 - 7pm; Fri and Saturday 12- 5pm

It is easy to get to on the Metro Green line to Frontenac station.

I have not received offers to replace me as convenor of Art & Etc so for now this is the final event. It has been fun. We evolved from Painter's Corner started by Pam Georges into Art & Etc. I want to thank all the members who arranged speakers and outings over the past 6 years.

Stage & Screen

Elizabeth Wirth

Join us at Theatre Lac Brome for two opening parties on Saturdays at 7pm.

Cost: $ 85. Tax receipt issued.

Saturday, June 26: Two one act plays by John Mortimer

Saturday, July 31: Two one act plays by Noel Coward

Literary Evenings

Zofia Laubitz

The Literary Evenings group is not having a June event. However, the members have provided some book recommendations for Summer Reading. In addition to the books the Literary Evenings group read during the year, group members have recently enjoyed the following books.

Fiction and non-fiction, frivolous and serious—there's something for everyone in this list:

Joan Anderson: A Walk on the Beach

Lisa Genova: Still Alice

Susan Hill: The Shadows in the Street

John Le Carré: A Most Wanted Man

Donna Leon: About Face

Frances Osborne: The Bolter

Marie Phillips: Gods Behaving Badly

Kate Pullinger: The Mistress of Nothing

Patricia Storace: Dinner with Persephone

Gabriel Weston: Direct Red
